The END (for 2012)

Our final 2012 camp out was held at P.J.'s Family Campground in Jackson. In attendance; Walt & Linda Ament, Dick & Brenda Dunham, Daryl & Crystal Dunham & Colt & Baby Grant, Jerry & Barb Hodges, Ron & Bev Irwin, Jerry & Theresa Szarama, Sue Wireman.

As usual, the weather made us glad we had a big room with a fireplace in which to gather....and gather there we did. It wasn't long before the fire was crackling, the tables were arranged, covered in festive table cloths, and games and puzzles (yes, of course food!!) were set up and ready to go.

Sue brought an array of Jiffy mixes for us to have, a dozen or so for each camper!! Thanks Sue!

We all headed out to eat on Friday night. The food was awesome, the company sensational! Another fun night. Afterwards it was back to the fire!

Saturday we had breakfast in the fireplace warmed, group room. The food was wonderful as usual and of course in access. We had pancakes, French toast, eggs, bacon, sausage, fruit, blueberry coffee cake!!

Activities for the day included walks, bike riding, (ok, that was just Colt) sleeping by the fire,

(Jerry & Molly)

puzzle solving,
Euchre playing,
and

I'm pretty sure I saw a competitive game of Hungry Hungry Hippo!!!

Before we knew it, it was time to eat again. Our group dinner was superb. We had more food than we could eat and I could fit in this small news letter!!! Besides, it is making me ravenous to remember all that scrumptious food!! Suffice to say no one went away hungry and EVERYTHING was ACES.

NOW...for Sunday. Things were going pretty much as usual as the morning started. The fire was put out, the group room was cleaned and returned to it's original order. There was ubiquitous camper cleaning in preparation for the long winter's nap. People were making rounds, saying their "Good Bye's". It's here Ron decided to liven things up and fell 5-6 feet off a ladder. Everyone helped get him up and Brenda and Barb got him in a sling. Instead of going home, we headed to some small God forsaken hospital in Jackson. As everyone left the campground, homeward bound (except Walt & Linda, who were spending another night) we sat in ER, waiting, waiting, & waiting! Six hours later we had the results; broken left humerus. Walt & Linda helped us close up and Dick & Brenda came back and got us and the camper home. Since then we have visited orthopedic surgeons, Beaumont hospital for 5 days on IV antibiotics for cellulitis and previously undiscovered blood clot in his leg that he scraped up in the fall (and which the Jackson hospital completely ignored, even when I told them of his circulation issues), wound care specialists and pharmacies for pain medication. What a wild couple of weeks eh?

Ron asked me to make a special section here to say thanks to everyone. He is grateful for all the cards, calls, thoughts and prayers he received. We both really appreciated all the help when he fell, both with getting him stabilized and closing up our camper after we left for the hospital. A special "Thank You" to Dick and Brenda for getting us home. We are so thankful for such wonderful friends. THANK YOU ALL!

It has been suggested we meet for dinner in early December for our snowbirds who miss our winter dinner. I like this suggestion, as did everyone else I ran it by. SO.....I have reserved space at Fino's Family Restaurant in Waterford, MI at 2:15pm on Sunday, December 2nd. Everyone is invited back to our house after dinner. Please RSVP to 248-431-8785.

Stuffing, potatoes, gravy, and pie
Enough to make you break down and cry
Things get very murky
When OD'd on turkey
And strung out on a Tryptophan high

Men claim they're the ones to discover
There's only one way to recover
"Women clean" they decree
"While men just watch TV"
Their lazy plot kept undercover

Women aren't oblivious you see
They just smile as they sip their Chablis
They know vengeance is sweet
Comes complete with receipt
It's the Black Friday huge shopping spree!!

~~Bev
